

Distance Palliative Care Nursing for Professional Nurses

introduction

The WHO defines palliative care as “an approach that improves the quality of life of patients and their families facing problems associated with life-threatening illness, through the prevention and relief of suffering, the early identification and impeccable assessment and treatment of pain and other problems, physical, psychosocial and spiritual.”

Palliative care is an integral part of every professional nurse’s role. This course equips the professional nurse with the particular skills and knowledge required to care for patients with non-curable and terminal illness and to support the patient’s family members.

who should enroll

All professional nurses registered with the SANC who care for patients with life-threatening illness.

course design

The course consists of 3 parts:

1. Distance learning based on methods suitable for adult learners.
2. Assessment component (examination, case study, communication skills and portfolio).
3. 128 hours clinical work – done in a HPCA approved Hospice.

course objectives

1. Describe the development of palliative care and its role within the health care system and apply legal, ethical and professional principles in the care of patients and families, with particular reference to death and dying.
2. Describe the management principles of pain and symptom control in advanced illness with particular reference to malignant disease, HIV and AIDS, progressive neurological disorders and end stage organ disease.
3. Be competent in the interpersonal communication skills required to establish rapport and facilitate the grieving process with patients, families and colleagues.
4. Explain the developmental stages as applied to social, cultural and spiritual dimensions in the provision of palliative care based on respect for the uniqueness of the individual.

assessment | certification

Formative and summative assessment methods are used to evaluate learning at both theoretical and practical levels.

To qualify for the certificate of completion for this short course, participants should fully attend the workshops, successfully complete the assessment process and complete the clinical work.
